The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because:

- The applicant's arguments have been taken into consideration, but are not persuasive at this point in time; the arguments have been previously addressed in the Final office action dated 12/23/2008;
- With respect to the applicant's remark pertaining to "since French is still a proof of work approach," the examiner had intended the combination of the two prior art references Schuba and French as "it"; where reliance made on French was for the purposes of showing the "accumulation" of a value associated with authentication;
- With respect to the "support evidence" and "KSR" reasoning, the examiner has taken the teachings of the prior art of record and that which would be reasonable to expect one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to understand and find obvious;

Continuation of 13. Other:

- The examiner notes that the "pending further review" was to clarify that the scope of the dependent claims 3-5 must remain the same when brought into independent form in each of the independent claims in order to guarantee the allowance. Incorporation of these dependent claims while maintaining their scope into each of the independent claims would place the application into condition for allowance.
